The phenomenon of Early School Leaving

According to Eurostat, 10.6% of young people 18-24 years old in the EU in 2017 did not complete their studies at the upper-secondary level and did not follow any other educational path for various social, economic and family-related reasons. Early School Leaving is an obstacle for social and economic growth. Thus Europe has to make full use of its human capital and take preliminary measures to tackle the social exclusion of vulnerable groups.
